

Lender Leads Play

"Hey (Client), this is (Your Name) I'm Calling on behalf of your (Servicer). It looks like you closed on (Date Closed). At the time, as part of our brand promise, we said we would reach out to you. Great news – rates have just dropped. What would benefit you now, lowering the interest rate or shortening the term.

"I'm not interested."

That's exactly why I'm calling—most people aren't until they realize how much they're overpaying. Your file was flagged for a better deal and ignoring it could cost you thousands. Let's take a quick look—you decide from there. (Pivot)

"I already refinanced."

Perfect—that shows you're proactive. But what was available then isn't what's available now. This is about improving your position even further, either with a lower cost or by unlocking equity. Let's talk real numbers. (Pivot)

"So, you're not Rocket."

That's a great question. We work with every lender including Rocket and we will see what lender offers you the most savings. (Pivot)

"I don't want to run my credit."

You don't need to—not at this point. Let's first see if the numbers work. If they do, then it's your call. No hit, no obligation, just real options. (Pivot)

"I don't want to start over."

You're not starting over—you're stepping up. Most of our clients keep their same term or even shorten it. Less paperwork, fewer headaches, and more savings. If this could put thousands back in your pocket, why wouldn't you at least hear it out? (Pivot)

CLOSE

Ok sounds good I am going to get this over to my finance director and we will go over the solution with you assuming we are able to get this done is there any reason we wouldn't be moving forward today? (Make sure you note the client's response) and if you get busy can you please give me a heads up and I will push it to another time.
