

INTRO

(If they confirm purchase) "Awesome! Are you actively looking for homes right now, or just getting things set up?"
"Awesome! I know you're probably getting a ton of calls right now, so I'll keep this quick. My job is to make sure you have the strongest pre-approval possible and that you're getting the best loan structure for your situation—not just a quick quote."

If the client is under contract, run the signed PA play

DIGGING DEEP

Before we get into the nitty gritty details, let's make sure I fully understand what you're looking for so we can structure the best loan for you. Tell me a little about your home search—are you looking at specific areas, or just exploring right now Pro tip TAKE NOTES

What sparked the move? (renting/FTHB/need more space/retiring/etc)
 How long do you plan on living in your home?
 Have you looked at any houses online? What price range you're looking in?
 How many bed/baths?
 School district?

Do you prefer a SFH, condo, or maybe another type of property?

BE CURIOUS! Go two or three layers deep with each question by asking why,how, what, etc

Creating Need

"What are you looking in?"

"Is that area competitive?"

"Do you have any idea what the best offer you can make on a house is?"
(they should say cash, if not you tell them)

"A lot of lenders hand out fast pre-quals, but those don't hold up in competitive markets. What we do differently is a fully verified approval, which is one step away from cash. That means when you make an offer, the seller knows you're serious and can close quickly."

IPAC / APP

To give you the strongest pre-approval possible, I'll need to verify a few key details. Let's walk through that now. Let's start with some basic information. What's your current living situation – do you rent or own?

CONFIRM 2 YEAR CURRENT RESIDENCE HISTORY

How is your income structured – salary, hourly, commission, or are you self-employed?

Final step, we'll talk about your income and assets, where you looking to bring as little down as possible, or Do you have an idea of how much down you want to put already?

Do you have any goals to pay off the house as quickly as possible?

Income:

What do you do for a living?

How long have you been with your company?

How do you get paid? (hourly, salary, OT,bonus, ETC)

*GET FULL 2 YEAR WORK HISTORY, MONTH AND YEAR****

Assets:

For the down payment, would that be coming from your checking/savings acct? If not, where from?

REO:

Do you own any properties currently? (IF NOT A FTHB)

Credit

"Alright! So far, I've got a solid idea of your income and assets. The last piece is credit, which just helps us fine-tune the best loan structure for you. "Have you checked your scores recently, or just when your lender ran your pre-approval?"

(If they don't know)

"Not a problem—I can go over what I see. More importantly, have you had any major changes recently, like new accounts, collections, or anything that might not be showing yet?"

(If they mention concerns)

"Got it. A lot of lenders just look at the score, but we look deeper things like debt ratios, late payments, and how your credit is structured all impact your approval. I'll make sure we take the best approach here."

"Alright, the next step is to pull up and review a copy of your credit report so we can get the full picture and lock in the best options for you. Go ahead and confirm your date of birth and social for me."

(If they hesitate)

"Great question! I totally understand wanting to keep your score in the best shape possible. The good news is that mortgage inquiries within a short window count as a single pull, so there's no negative impact on your score. But more importantly, without a full credit report, we can't structure the right loan options or get you a strong approval that sellers will take seriously. Once we get this pulled, I'll break down exactly what you qualify for and answer any questions you have. Go ahead and confirm your DOB for me."

Confirm current address, if less than 2 yrs, confirm at least 2 years of residency, name spelling, and if they have a suffix (Jr, Sr, II, III, etc)

Ask if they are married / divorced

Might be a good time to ask them if there are any cosigners on the loan

Might also be a good time to ask if they are co-signed on any loans (car loan, mortgage, etc)

THE PRE-APPROVAL CLOSE!

"Alright, based on everything we went over, I'll get started structuring the best loan options for you. I'll also send over a quick checklist of anything we need to finalize your approval so we can keep things moving."

"By the way, are you already working with a realtor, or would you like me to connect you with a great one who knows your area well?"

(If they have an agent) → "Great! I'll reach out to them and introduce myself, so they know we're getting your approval ready."

(If they don't) → "No problem! I'll connect you with one of the top agents I work with—they'll make sure you're seeing the best homes first."

"I'm going to run the numbers and get everything set up on my end. I'll give you a call back in about 15-20 minutes to go over the best loan options for you. Sound good?"

(If they agree) → "Great! I'll call you shortly—talk soon!"

If they hesitate on committing to a follow-up time, you can say:

"I just want to make sure you have all the details before you make any decisions. This way, you can see the best options available. I'll call you back in about 15-20 minutes—does that work?"
